World Horticultural Trade and U.S. Export Opportunities

U.S. Exports of Horticultural Products Remain Slightly Behind Last Year's Exports

Year-to-date (October-July)

U.S. exports of horticultural products during fiscal year (FY) October-July 1998/99 are valued at $8.6 billion, down 1.5 percent from the same period a year ago. Exports of fresh citrus account for most of the decline, due to a freeze in California last December. The value of fresh citrus to date in FY 1999 is $470 million, down 24 percent from the previous year.

Exports to Mexico are valued at $533 million so far in FY 1999, up nearly 18 percent from the same time period a year ago. U.S. exports in July to Korea, Australia, and Singapore, remain strong, with exports to these countries for the month up an average of 13 percent from a year ago.

World Trade Situation and Policy Updates

Panama Restricts Import Licenses

On September 13, 1999, Panama refused to issue an import license for a shipment of imported U.S. fresh vegetables. As a result, 15,000 pounds ($10,000) of produce were destroyed. The transition to a new government was cited as the rationale for the change to a more restrictive practice in terms of issuing import licenses. Although, the Panamanian government is allowed to take 30 days to issue a phytosanitary permit, the practice prior to the new government taking office was to issue the permit almost immediately upon checking the exporting country's phytosanitary certificate for the shipment. Although the new Government has begun to issue permits in a more timely manner, FAS is monitoring the situation and recommends U.S. exporters work closely with their importers to be sure all the necessary documents have been obtained.

Korea Imposes New Quarantine Restrictions on Imports of Fresh Fruits from San Bernardino County, California

In the wake of recent detections on Mexican fruit flies in an area of San Bernardino County, Korea has announced that, effective September 20, it will no longer allow fresh fruit imports from "the western parts of the San Bernardino Mountains." The embargoed area greatly exceeds the normal quarantine zone established by APHIS in response to such outbreaks. Affected by the action is the Redlands area of San Bernardino County, an important citrus producing area. In a related development, Korea has refused at this time to lift its existing restrictions on all areas of L.A. and San Diego counties, the Lake Forest area of Orange County, and the western parts of the Santa Rosa Mountains of Riverside county, citing continued fruit fly detections every year or two as the reason for the need for further review. In these cases, APHIS has in recent months declared the outbreaks officially eradicated and has lifted the related quarantine zone restrictions. FAS and APHIS are working with the Korean Government to address the discrepancy between the quarantine zones and the time it takes to lift the restrictions.
